Who's Who in Lemon Grove

For those of us who can't remember where we left our hat we wonder how Francis "Frenchy" Faucher, postmaster of Lemon Grove gets 20 thousand pieces of mail sorted and delivered so expenditiously each day.

Faucher, who came to San Diego area 26 years ago from St. Cloud, Minnesota, climed the postoffice ranks to his present position, moreover, his voice is usually heard at civic meetings because he has a high interest in what takes place in the community.

Looking much younger than his age, Faucher has four children 3 boys and a girl in the age group between 8 and 13 and they make up a happy little family, with wife Namoi, at 7480 San Miguel.

While he is "boss" to the 19 postoffice employees, he is mere male to the family. Hardest job, he says, is getting the kids to work. "When I was 7 years I was selling papers. Kids don't like to work nowadays," he opines. He thinks it is part of the social upheaval of the past generation.

"My kids did build a swimming pool in the back yard last year," he reported "but their mother sparked that project.

The Fauchers, with sons Tom and Jerry the names inspired by the holiday drink, and Robert, and daughter Jeany, like taking long trips across the continent with a trailer hooked behind the car.

"Last year we were on a 6 week tour covering Yellowstone, Itaska Niagra Falls, Chicago and Knoxville," he said.

During this trip the kids saw their first electrical storm. They still talk about it."

No such trip is planned for this year. "Finances" Faucher explains This year vacation will be spent on the yard with an eye cocked for an old school bus which he intends to outfit with bunks, cooking, and other equipment.

Then next vacation they'll qualify as the "non-stop" Fauchers, except a "few stops" for fishing, according to Frenchy.

SPRING VALLEY CHALLANGES LEMON GROVE "CLEAN-UP"

The Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce president, Leland Whited, has challanged the Lemon Grove Chamber president, Forrest Baxter, to a "Clean-Up Campaign" contest between the two communities during the month of May. Also participating in the campaign in the Grove and the Valley will be their respective fire commissioners, headed by Clan Mason (Lemon Grove) and Lucius Lawton (Spring Valley).

Attorney Luther Hussey has been named one of the judges.

All Grove service clubs are being requested to participate in the campaign.

GROVE'S GROWTH TOLD IN INTERIOR

A safari, designed to create interest among the surrounding communities concerning the rapid development of Lemon Grove, got well under way last week, when a group of Kiwani members visited ranchers and community leaders Jamacha, Dulzura, Potrero and Spring Valley, distributing copies of the Chamber of Commerce Business Directory and the Review. Tony Senka honorary Kiwanian, not shown, provided key leaders in the visited communities with complimentary subscriptions to the Review to keep them abreast of Lemon Grove activities.

The turnout, represented a great part of Lemon Grove's business, fell into easy hospitality which the ladies had planned.

The colorful installation ceremony was aptly handled by Mrs. Burton Snyder. The Maypole motif for the head of the table was attractive.

Standing Committee Chairman: Membership, Mrs. Arthur Chappelle; Social, Mrs. Bruno Leonesio; Ways and Means, Mrs. C. S. LEMON GROVE FIRST TO FEEL SET BACK SURVEY

ORDINANCE TO BECOME EFFECTIVE MONDAY

Property owners and renters along Broadway this week moved nearer to conformance with the County Zoning Ordinance requiring a setback of 75 feet from the center of the highway as County Building Inspection department set May 5 as the date for re-inspection. Failure to comply with this law constitutes a misdemenor, inspection spokesmen said.

Clyde Totten, County Building Inspector, made a survey of Broadway from Radio to Quarry Road, personally visiting each address. He later confirmed his conversation by letters which were sent last week.

In all, 47 letters, covering more than 50 violations, mostly signboards, were sent. Structures erected before the 1942 Ordinance will not be required to comply until County funds for such moving becomes available, Totten said.

Charles Salyers, chief of County Building Inspection Division said that 7 other localities are in the process of being surveyed for setback infractions. Lemon Grove because of it's fast growth, had produced more complaints than other communities, thus making it the first on the survey list.

This action Salyers pointed out is independant of the State Highway Commission move and has no bearing on the possible widening of Broadway. Complaints, Salyer said concerned obstructed vision mostly and were registered with County Council and County Planning Routine investigations were ordered through his department.

IMPORTANCE OF PRIMARY STRESSED

Channing P. Mason, President of the Kiwanis Club today stressed the importance of voting at primary elections.

Many voters who have no party affiliation, except those who have moved to California from other states, are inclined to pay little attention ti primaryy elections, he said. This is unfortunate because California cross-filing system generally lends a multiplicity of candidates on both party tickets who have cross-filled as candidates of two or more parties, Mason pointed out.

If any of these candidates, or anyy candidate for a non-partisan office, receive a majoritvy of votes cast at the Primary, such candidates are disclosed elected, consequently the voter who regards the Primary as a mere nominating proceedure and fails to exercise this right to vote there at, will discover in November that he has no choice in the matter. The office may then be already filled.

Residents of Acacia Street have planted 40 Carob trees along the one block long street.

The community beautification project was started in the hope that other areas would follow suit.

There are 10 houses on each side of Acacia and residents offered to aid other persons in getting a similar project started.

There are other trees suitable for this use, property owners said but in any event a permit would have to be obtained from the County prior to the planting, if planting is done on County property.

No Fires This Week!

Inside Goodwin

by Max Goodwin

The ladies, bless 'em, can manage things pretty good when we, the more able sex, keep our fat noses out of it. Most of the men who attend the annual dinner-dance given in honor of the installation of officers of the Business Women's League at Casper's Rancho Saturday marvelled at the efficiency and dispatch with which the little ladies carried out the program.

I say without fear of contradiction, that the ladies in observing the social niceties of sincerely complimenting each officer for the effort expended during the year made the installation the friendliest one I have ever attended.

Edna Snyder, mistress of ceremonies, likened the retiring officers to the green, or the coming productivity of plant life. The new officers were described as the yellow of the flower, giving of its beauty and fragrance, to the league's causes. The analogy drawn by Mrs. Snyder was a good one.

SELF DEFENSE . . . Actor Don Montgomery defends his criticism of government's foot-and-mouth disease program before agricultural committee.

Schnell Offers Advice on Frozen Food Lockers

You can lower your food bill starting right now according to A. P. Schnell, owner and manager of American Frozen Food Lockers, 8321 Imperial Ave. just east of Lemon Grove.

You can cut your food costs by buying food when certain items are plentiful and low in cost and storing it in a locker plant.

Better still, says Schnell, you can store your garden produce for future fresh food every day in the year.

A storage locker does not take the place of a home freezer. It is an auxiliary storage service. This means that you may purchase from American, if you wish, meat at wholesale prices in sides, halfs or quarters. In addition, American features lemon wood smoked ham and bacon.

American will also store, free of charge, contents of any home freezer which is out of order. Still another service is rental of lockers for a short term period for sake of food protection when the family goes on vacation, according to Schnell.

HEGLAND SAYS SPLIT SESSION SCHOOLS 'FRAUD ON CHILDREN'

Sheridan Hegland, Lemon Grove and La Mesa newspaperman, called "better schools" and "realistic persions" the top two issues, when he announced his candidacy for Assembly.

"Overcrowded classrooms and split-day sessions are a fraud on children," Hegland said. "We're spending more money on cigaretts and chewing gum than we are on giving the kids a break."

Hegland called for increased state financial aid. "Rapidly growing cities like Lemon Grove will need state help for several years. Local property owners cannot be expected to pay the full cost of new schools.

Hegland's newspapers have been praised by school superintendents, Parent-Teacher leaders, and the County Teachers Assn. Among superintendents who have praised the newspapers are Byron Netzley, of Lemen Grove, and Lewis Smith, of Grossmont.

"The aged also deserve a square break," Hegland said. "Leaders in industry and labor have approved cost-of-living clauses in wage contracts. Certainly pensions should be increased as the cost of living goes up."

Hegland, who grew up on farms in South Dakota and Iowa, graduated from Stanford University. During the war years he was in charge of the total USO program in San Diego city and county.

Hegland is married, has two children, Sherry, a Grossmont junior, and Kenney, a sixth grader.

BLUE SHIELD EXPANDS COVERAGE AT NO INCREASE

California Physician's Service, the statewide Blue Shield health plan, today announced two major expansions of coverage for its members at no increase in membership rates.

Expanded benefits are:

1. Surgical contract: The one-year limitation on surgical services for any one condition is removed. Contractual surgical services, including post-operative care and recurrences, henceforth will be automatically renewed each contract year.

2. Medical-While-Hospitalized contract: Benefits henceforth will commence with the physician's first visit to a hospitalized CPS member who holds Medical-While-Hospitalized coverage, instead of with the physician's third visit to the hospital.

Removal of the one-year limitation on surgical services applies to all CPS contracts whether group, individual or direct payment and to employee members and family dependents alike. In effect, this change means that listed surgical services for members will not be limited either in time or amount.

BED WETTING STOPPED

A New Scientific Discovery To Solve This Distressing Problem as Described in December Redbook Magazine

Until a child is two or three years old bed wetting is a normal practice. Beyond this age this habit is called by the medical term, Enuresis, and becomes a vexing problem that many parents find great difficulty in solving. Drugs are of no avail in the average case and punishment or scolding often makes the condition worse.

Many forms of treatment have been tried in the past with little or no success. Now a new approved method has been devised that is generally successful in ridding the child of this humiliating habit in three or four weeks.

This new treatment is really a conditioning of the child whereby he usually stops the bed-wetting habit all by himself. A dry child is a happy child. It was developed by a doctor and is endorsed and approved by physicians. No drugs or attachments are used. Full details of this new scientific discovery may be obtained by telephoning F-7255, or you may drop a post card to The Enurtone Co., 722 Bank of America Bldg., San Diego, Calif.

THAT'S A GOOD BOY . . . "Lucky," a six-weeks-old camel, is bussed by his mother, "Peggy," after the little inhabitant of the London Zoo faced members of the press for the first time. The smallest dromedary of them all handled himself with distinction—Lucky, the buss.

ACROSS the DESK

THE INDEPENDENT RECORD, Wildwood, N.J., devoted its lead editorial to Easter last week. Editor Charles V. Mathis has put into words the memories of millions. He wrote:

"Can you remember your first Easter? The stuffed bunny at the foot of your bed . . . the cottony chicks and furry ducklings in their cozy nest of green shredded paper . . . the bright candies . . . the kaleidoscopic eggs you had to hunt so hard to find?

"Can you recall the walk to church with your mother and dad? The dignity of your new spring clothes? And later, sitting in the pew, you watched the dust motes dancing in the unlight shafting through the high windows . . . you sat spellbound while the surpliced choir lifted you to heaven on wings of song. You knew this was no ordinary Sunday.

"It's true as you live there'll be hot cross buns for tea . . . like the taste of a kiss. The ecstasy of birdsong and the deeper notes of the church bells in the salt wind . . . the good, absorbing smell of drama in the air as you tell the parable and . . . it's the whole night in the universe!

Spring and Work

From the Nashua Sun News Herald, Morning Sun, Iowa:

"Perhaps we are going to see the gentle ferment that is called 'spring' but it seems that there is budding optimism to be found in the manner and speech of people hereabout. Maybe it is only a matter of people getting in earth after a long winter of inactivity. Whatever it is the opinion that there is going to be a good year is much in evidence. It is a sure sign spring is nearly here. As an example . . .

From the Canton Independent-Sentinel, Canton, Pa.:

no matter how hard or how easy a winter has been, it begins to seem as though it would never end."

"The first crocus has not yet been seen; but first thoughts of it have shone, bright yellow or rich purple, in innumerable dream gardens.

"Pussywillows are minimuscular on the rather stiff branches, but boys are mapping their campaigns and searching parties will be out along the rivulets in woods on hillsides, before long.

"Everyone guesses there's some spell of cold weather, but everyone is privately convinced it can't last anytime at all now.

"Anyway, we all know that you don't have to have returned to useless travels of that, we shall find ourselves suddenly surrounded by the gentle caress of sunshine, and altogether overwhelming warmth of spring."

McKinnon Accepts Bid To Debate With Knowland

Congressman Clinton D. McKinnon, Democratic choice for the United States Senate, today agreed to meet his Republican opponent, Sen William F. Knowland, in a public debate to discuss issues of the forthcoming campaign.

McKinnon's action was in response to an invitation from the Mill Valley Forum that the two leading candidates appear on the same platform before that organization.

The Forum is a 17-year-old community institution situated at Mill Valley, Calif., just north of the Golden Gate. Its monthly Monday night programs on affairs of the day have frequently attracted national attention. Its invitation to Congressman McKinnon was extended by Milen C. Dempster, vice chairman.

The Mill Valley Forum invitation was for the fall series and would probably be during the first week in October.

However, Congressman McKinnon said he would be equally willing to debate against Senator Knowland prior to the June 3 primaries.

SHEARER SLAPS AT TIDELANDS CONTROL

In an address before the Oceanside Republican Women's Club last week, State Assembly candidate William K. Shearer lashed Federal control of California's tidelands as "unconstitutional" and detrimental to the welfare of California's more than 6,000,000 citizens.

"For over 100 years, the Federal Government was content to leave control of the tidelands with the several States", Shearer asserted. "Then when revenue bearing oil was discovered in tidelands areas, the grabbing administration in Washington seized these submerged parts of California's territory.

"Just at the time when California's terrific growth was reaching a climax; just when our revenue needs—our school building program and road development projects—were on the ascent due to increased population, the greedy bureaucrats in Washington grabbed our revenue source, the tidelands".

The answer to the problem, often misunderstood", he stated, "States Rights as I see it is the right of each individual republic within the Union to control its own domestic affairs. Local and State governments are closer to the people and better understand their problems than can the Federal Government operating out of a capital a continent away".

TOMATO COLORING REACTS TO COLD

Young tomato plants with purple veins may not be sick or hungry, but only cold. Plant pathologists at U. C. College of Agriculture found that they could turn viens of tomato plants purple by lowering the temperatures when the plants were about half grown.

Under controlled conditions in climate chambers tomato seedlings were started with hot days and warm nights. When the plants were well established the temperatures were lowered. In just a few days the viens turned purple and the leaves began to roll up. Plants seemed diseased of deficient in certain minerals. After the temperatures were returned to normal the plants turned bright green again, resumed growth, and bore fruit.

This purpling of veins has often puzzeled tomato growers in the spring, especially along the coast. After the temperatures go up, however, the tomatoes return to normal.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Newt Hatter, Pinecastle, Fla.: My mother about September would get ready to weave cloth. First she would card and spin the yarn on a big spinning wheel, then gather walnut hulls and sage grass, etc., to dye the yarn. Then she would weave out a hundred yards of linsey cloth from which she made blankets. Then she would put in another warp of a hundred yards for jeans.

From Mrs. David McMullen, Bordentown, N.J.: I used to watch the farmer make sorghum molasses. A man would feed the cane into three round cylinders, turned by a long pole, propelled by a mule, and the juice would come out of a spout into a bucket. The juice was put in a long vat to cook. It cooked a long time, and sometimes I'd go down to the vat after some molasses for taffy.

From George H. Briggs, Los Angeles: As a small boy I hung around the harness shop of an uncle much admired. Each autumn he would bring in great rolls of buffalo hides. The farm people would buy these for use in the winter as robes, rugs or material for coats.

From Clarence Coleman, Louisville, Ky.: Well do I remember back in the Gay Nineties when as a young sprout of from 12 to 15 years, I made my big money selling May apple root, for which I usually received in the neighborhood of a penny a pound.

From the Old Cuss, Chicago: I remember when the nickelodeon was a national institution and a singer known as the Flatbush Brunehilde, "the gal with the torso and the tassel," who made popular the song, "The Pitcher of Beer." If you remember these, my hearties, you are no younger than I!

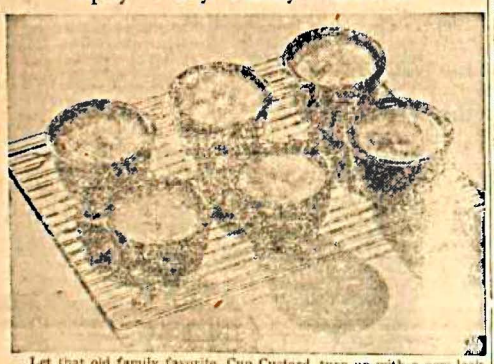
4 H DRESS REVIEW COMING

A country-wide 4-H Dress Revue will be held Sunday, May 18, at 3:00 P. M. at the Del Mar County Fair Grounds.

Bena Johnson, University of California Home Advisor reports that approximately one hundred girls and boys will participate in this event.

The average 5 room house exerts a constant pressure of 50,000 pounds upon its foundation. For this reason, many architects specify rot-and-termite resistant pressure treated foundation lumber. The added building cost is about 1 per cent.

Upsy-Daisy Candy Custards



Let that old family favorite, Cup Custard, turn up with a new look and a new flavor twist by the simple addition of diced chocolate and coconut candy placed in the bottom of each cup before baking. Best of all, this tasty dessert, with health-giving energy because it calls for eggs and milk as a base, takes but moments to prepare and can be served at any time:

Mounds Chocolate Frosted Custards

2 Mounds bars, diced
2 eggs
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 cups milk, scalded

Lightly butter 6 six-ounce custard cups; divide Mounds among cups. Beat eggs slightly in medium-size bowl; stir in sugar, salt, and vanilla. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly, until blended. Strain into prepared custard cups; place cups in deep baking pan; add hot water to half fill baking pan. Bake in slow oven (325°F.) 50 minutes, or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Remove cups from hot water at once; cool 10 minutes; loosen around edges with knife or spatula; turn out onto individual dessert dishes. (Chocolate-coconut sauce will dribble down cups, naturally.) SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST ANNOUNCES MISSIONARY

"Christians have a responcibility for the physical needs of their fellow men as well as for their spiritual welfare," declared Willis L. Hyatt, pastor of the La Mesa-Lemon Grove Seventh-day Aventist Church inannouncing a special medical missionary service Saturday May 3.

The Adventist pastor will bring to his congregation at the 11 a. m. service plans for starting Red Cross first-aid and home nursing classes as preparation for an expanded community service program by the church. Members who have not already done so will be urged to qualify as Red Cross first aidi nstructors and teachers of home nursing courses, so that they can help in times of national emergency.

PARENTS PURCHASE BAND UNIFORMS

The Parents Club of Helix High School is sponsoring a card party at the American Legion Hall in La Mesa Friday.

This will be the last project the parents of the band and orchestra of Helix High will sponsor for the group. New uniforms were purchased for 80 band members last September at a cost of $3760. The amount was borrowed from a La Mesa bank and repaid in full about two weeks ago.

Receipts from the card party will be used for scholarship funds to deserving seniors of the band and orchestra who wish to go to college. Often times in the past a fund of $100 has meant a band or orchestra member was able to go to college who could not have afforded to go without the award. Daniel Lewis, popular teacher of the young musicians would like to award ten outstanding students $100 each. Whatever profits are realized from the card party will be used for this purpose. Keep May 2 open on your calender for this event.

RECORD CROWD GEM SHOW DRAWS

Over seven hundred interested persons signed the register at the two-day gem show put on by the Tourmaline Gem and Mineral Society this last weekend in La Mesa.

The crowd around the rock saw not only watched with interest, but offered its own specimens for free sawing by Art Gray. Fascinated watchers were intertained by Whitney Hindes and Mrs. Harold Baker as they made silver jewelry.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The person or persons who defaced our township's landmark, the neon lit lemon, are presumably pleased with their handiwork in red and white house paint. It was a stupid and unthinking deed.

Undoubtedly, those who committed this offense will keep it a secret and I don't blame them. Such acts must certainly make the vandals ashamed enough to want to hide their identy.

Vandalism by youngsters is growing in Lemon Grove. As a business firm we have paid tribute to the tune of several hundred dollars to vandalism. Some such acts may be properly attributed to an overflow of energy of youngsters, but the defacement of the Lemon Grove landmark, which ordinarily bespeaks pride and lends dignity to the community, is shameful.

I for one would like to see a community program against vandalism with civic, church and business leaders joining in. An educatioal program may prevent some youngsters from progressing into more criminal acts. If in the process the vandals who defaced the sign should come forth and repair the damage, at least some of the community imbarrassment will have been overcome.

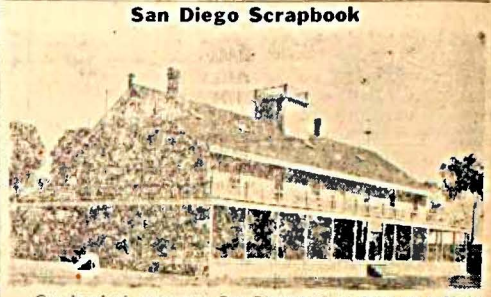
San Diego Scrapbook



One hundred years ago, San Diego had no fame as a Navy town—little fame as a town at all—when these Army barracks were built in 1852. San Diego consisted of a small settlement at Old Town, and the location for the Army barracks was selected because of its safe distance from the little town. The site is now known as Kettner Boulevard and Market Street—vivid proof of the growth of San Diego in 100 years.

Material for the barracks reached San Diego via sailing ship, after the long voyage around the horn. Construction may have been difficult but it was most certainly sound; the building was in continuous use by the Army until 1921. This view, from the historical collection of Union Title Insurance and Trust Company, shows the barracks as it appeared in 1906.

The site is presently occupied by the headquarters of the 114th Anti-Aircraft Brigade of the National Guard.

MONTEREY HEIGHT SMALL FRY STAGE GALA PET REVIEW

Rabbits, dogs, pollywogs, frogs, fish, a cat, a duck, a parakeet—even a Bantam rooster wth one dark and one light-colored leg—were showen by their proud owners at a "pet parade" last Friday, in the atio of the Priest home at 1715 Englewood Drive, Monterey Heights. Complete with judges, grandstand seats, popcorn, Kool-Aid, and crepe paper streamers, he affair brought success to its feur to ten-year-old participants. It was pinned and carried out—with very little grown-up aid—by Brenda Priest, 9, Kenny Priest, 7, and Jimmie Kost, 7.

With Brenda Priest and Terry Homan acting as judges, prizes were won by Paul Van Riper, whose bright green parakeet--"that only talks in the house"--was judged to be the prettiest; Gloria Reynolds, whose red-bowed dog "Lucky" was considered best; and Richard Kost, 4, whose odd-legged Bantam rooster was considered to be the most unusual. Susie and Philip Titmas, Jimmie Smith, Harold LaZelle, and Rhoda Vanderhyde all brought their dogs; the Priests and Jimmie Kost, their rabbits. Lee, Danny, and Janet Norr brought their dog "Bozo," too, but he was disqualified, being minus a leash. Charleen Coker, Eloise Woolley, and Sandra Rask came with pollywogs and frogs. Sue Gregory's was the only cat, and Kirk Poachman's the only duck.

Also taking part in the fun were Lloyd Paurini, George Radici, Leslie Kelhorn, Judy Linville, Harry Nichols, and Jimmie Jackemeyer. Phillip Titmas dispensed the Kool-Aid at 1c a cup.

By LITTLE HULL

WE WONDER WHAT Mr. Webster would say if he knew what they had done to his dictionary. They have twisted the vocabulary into such knots that one has to think three times nowadays before he speaks. It used to be only twice.

A few examples: The Russian masters call their form of slavery "democracy." A socialist is now known as a "Liberal." The "vacuums" who want to replace our free institutions with state control call themselves "progressives." "Capitalist" and "Conservative" are now cuss-words. We are "imperialists" because we are not. And about the wildest of the misnomers is that which has been applied to the Roosevelt-Truman administrations — "labor governments."

Webster would define a "labor government" as one which favored the working classes. Now there are about 13 million members of labor unions in this country and about 50 million non-labor union workers. Can you—after analyzing the question—perceive how labor has been benefitted in the last 20 years by either Mr. Roosevelt's or Mr. Truman's administrations? It is true they receive three times as many dollars which in turn buy one third as much goods. They have ice boxes and television sets and motors.

But industry and their own hard work—not politicians—gave them these at prices which even the New Deal's 35 cent dollars can buy. It is true that the big bosses of the labor unions have been given tremendous power. But—the common member has been reduced to the status of an automaton, and, if the recommendations of Mr. Truman's wage stabilization board in the steel dispute go through, and the laborer is forced to join a union, he will lose his identity entirely.

Labor government! Is that a proper name for a government which has handed to a few bosses the right to hold an almost life and death power over 13 million once free Americans? Is that the proper name for a government which grants to a handful of ambitious men such power?

Letters To the Editor

The Lemon Grove Review
Gentlemen:

A few weeks ago I wrote you a letter acknowledging my gratitude as a resident of this area for the Cross which crowns Mt. Helix. I questioned as to the responsibility for its maintenance, for the lights, and for the bills involved in the care of such a welcome asset to our community.

Mr. Charles Beagle of La Mesa, [illegible]

[illegible] Cyrus Carpenter Yawkey, and his sister, Mary Yawkey White, improved the crest of Mt. Helix with the Cross and a Theater as a memorial to their mother, Mary Carpenter Yawkey, who loved the mountain summit and its inspiring view. On Easter Day, 1925, this improved property was dedicated and given for the use and enjoyment of all people, "for the use of the Public in general and of the Citizens and Residents of the County of San Diego and the State of California in particular . . . free from any and all charges . . . for such benevolent, religious, educational and charitable purposes as will contribute to promote knowledge and culture, to relieve the distressed in body, mind, and; or spirit, to cultivate a love for the beautiful in art and nature, to foster an interest in and love of music and the drama, and to promote all things which tend to elevate and refine mankind."

Thoughtful provision was also made by the donors for the upkeep annd repair of the property in a deed dated June 14, 1929, conveying the property to the County of San Diego. An endowment fund of $30,000 was established at that time, the interest from which was to be used for maintenance purposes. The amount of this interest naturally has been reduced over the years because of the necessity for reinvestment at lower rates.

It was provided that any improvements were to be made under the supervision of registered architects, and that each Easter Sunday "religious services of a strictly non-sectarian character and appropriate and suitable for commemorating the Resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ, as taught by the Christian Churches of the world," be held at the Mt. Helix Nature Theater, open to all people. The use of the Theater is available without charge by making application to the San Diego County Board of Supervisors. The Rotary Club of La Mesa has sponsored the Easter Sunrise Services for the past six years.

Provision was also made that the Cross be lighted at night on Christmas evening and each night following, throught New Year's night; Mother's Day evening; the night of August 16, in memory of the donors, and Thanksgiving evening.

During the past year, regular inspection has reduced destruction. The Parks Dept. of the San Diego County Public Works Dept. has been assigned the maintenance of the area, and the space at the foot of the Cross has been landscaped, making it more difficult of access, as well as more beautiful.

Mr. Beagle is in charge of the property, appointed by the San Diego Board of Supervisors. Mr. Jack Strong of Mt. Helix has charge of the lights.

We are fortunate to have such a treasure as this memorial in our midst, and the 10,000 people who jurneyed to the services on Easter Sunday attested its importance in their lives.

Sincerely yours,
Mary Esther Ray

CHARLIE SERR HOOKS WINNING YELLOWTAIL

A Lemon Grove fisherman, Charlie Serr of Jim's U-Rent It, 8121 Broadway, hit the jackpot last week on a yellowtail fishing jaunt. From the sportfisher Smokey Stover he snagged a 17½ pound yellowtail which won a $12 jackpot. Last year he hung a larger yellow but that day it was the smallest brought aboard.

Another Lemon Grove fisherman hit the jackpot a day later in the Deejay when Fred Hunter, 3467 Trophy Drive, a draftsman with the gas company, landed a 31 pound 5 oz., yellow.

Ironically, the jackpot for the big fish was only $5.00.

John Van Gilse, operator of the Grove Theatre, hit the spinning tackle jack pot Friday when he established a new world record. According to the Yellowtail Derby committee the record was established for a ten pound test line with spinning tackle and the fish weighed 31 pounds, 8 ounces. He caught it off the Charlotte Two.

Van has six qualifiers to his credit since the Derby was inaugurated. He won the 1951 Barracuda Derby.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

THE SEIZURE of the steel mills by President Truman set off a barrage of criticism in the United States congress from strictly partisan sources. And much of the criticism against the President's action in taking over the mills came from many big sponsors of radio and television shows.

However, one Republican in the Senate, conceded to be the best constitutional lawyer in that body, took his colleagues to task. He was Senator Wayne Morse, Republican of Oregon. Nobody disputes constitutional law with Senator Morse and gets very far with it. Said Senator Morse in part:

"I should like to suggest to those who I have heard today express themselves on constitutional law, whose views in my opinion would be laughed out of any freshman course in constitutional law in any of our law schools, that they will never live so long as to read a decision of the United States supreme court holding that in this land in time of great national peril, the President of the United States does not have the inherent power under the constitution to protect the safety and security of the nation, until Congress gets off its haunches and proceeds to meet its constitutional obligations and performs its duty.

"Mr. President, I am becoming a little weary of hearing politicians in an election year proceed to attack the President of the United States because they dislike his partisanship, when they themselves have yet to take action under the Constitution of the United States as it is their clear duty to take, if they do not like the kind of action the President of the United States is taking in the exercise of his inherent power.

"I repeat, I hope when a Republican president occupies the White House—and I trust it will be in November 1952—he will not fold his hands and fail to act when the boys in Korea are about to be jeopardized by failure on the part of the steel unions and a group of steel companies to keep the steel mills of America rolling.

". . . Until the supreme court hands down a decision—and such opinion would be the first of its kind in all our history—that all the dicta that have appeared in the decisions to date are not applicable—I shall continue to say that it is the duty and the responsibility of the President of the United States in an hour of great crisis to proceed by executive action to protect the security of the nation."

Some of the steel mill executives have told the American people that the President's action was unprecedented, when the fact is that such Presidents as Andrew Jackson, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt took like actions—and no court would uphold an injunction against their authority.

Finally Senator Joseph McCarthy has been brought to censure by his own colleagues in his assault on individual and personal liberty and the very integrity of his government. The senator from Wisconsin attacked the motives and intent of five of his colleagues by charging that members of the senate subcommittee investigating his fitness to serve as a member of the United States senate were "stealing tens of thousands of dollars" and "picking the pockets of the taxpayers" in their investigation of him. Result was Senator McCarthy was slapped down by a vote of 60 to 6 in a Senate vote of confidence in the investigating committee and authorizing the committee to proceed with its investigation.

Senator Gillette of Iowa, chairman of the committee, a rather meek individual, reflected the keenness which McCarthy has stirred up when he declared that in his entire public life he had never been subjected to "more vicious, vile and vindictive insinuations" against himself. Senator A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, who cut his eye-teeth in politics as a newspaper reporter, declared McCarthy's attack would "destroy the very power, integrity and dignity of government."

Long range water problems on local, not national level, increased population growth and adequate housing for school children are problems he feels must be tackled

A FAVORITE for an easy luncheon is Welsh rarebit which is made simply by melting some processed cheese and blending with milk and a bit of mustard. Serve over toast, garnished with grilled tomatoes, hard-cooked eggs, quartered or cold ham.

For those after-school snacks, children will cheer if you serve them toast spread with honey which has been blended with grated orange rind.

To heat iced coffee cakes or rolls, place uncovered in a skillet and bake at moderate temperature for two or three minutes.

A gay salad quickly made is done by blending cut-up marshmallows with a can of fruit cocktail, drained. Spoon into halves of canned yellow cling peaches drained set on a nest of greens.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Supper Sandwich
(Makes 6)

6 frankfurters buns, split
1½ cups baked beans
6 teaspoons catsup
6 frankfurters, cooked

Toast the cut side of buns until golden brown. Heat baked beans. Place one frankfurter on each bun, spread with one teaspoon of the catsup and ¼ cup baked beans. Close top to make sandwich. Serve warm.

Cook rhubarb in this way to preserve the color: slice one pound rhubarb into ½-inch slices. Add ¾ cup water and 1 cup seedless raisins then cover and boil gently for 5 minutes. Stir once or twice. Add ½ cup brown sugar; stir until dissolved. Serve chilled.

Try some diced pears in lime-flavored gelatin. Add diced pimiento for color, shredded cabbage for texture interest. It's a delightful salad.

Let the children use cookie cutters while they help you make their favorite sandwiches. It keeps little hands busy and out of mischief. If the sandwiches are open-faced, the eyes, ears, nose and mouth can be marked with raisins.

Add a delightful contrast to soups with crisp bacon croutons. Drop small cubes of bread into hot, bacon drippings and stir until they are coated with fat. Spread the bread cubes on cookie sheet and toast under a low broiler flame.

Quck Action Saves Poisoned Pet

Quick action on the part of Connie Serr of 8990 Lamar St. in Spring Valley saved the life of her 12 year old dog "Skippy" last week. The dog's peculiar actions caused Connie to call Dr. A. D. Hyland of Grossmont who responded immediately.

He pronounced it strychnine poisoning but was able to save Skippy's life. The dog is still recovering.

"HOT" CHICKENS COOL TO PRODUCTION

Water cooling of poultry houses is cheap insurance against heat losses for the poultryman in most inland valley areas of California, Farm Advisor Adolph of the University of California states that water cooling is most practical in areas of high summer temperatures, relatively low humidity, and some air movement.

Some of the undisirable effects of hot weather include actual loss of birds, reduced production, and decrease in egg size and quality. Among the methods of water cooling are roof sprinkling of houses, mist spraying inside of the houses, and using sprinklers between pens, chiefly for the growing of vegetation which, in turn exerts a cooling effect.

More information about the different methods is contained in "How to Cool Poultry Houses with Water," a new publication available from the office of the Farm and Home Advisor, Bldg. 2, 4005 Rosecrans, San Diego.

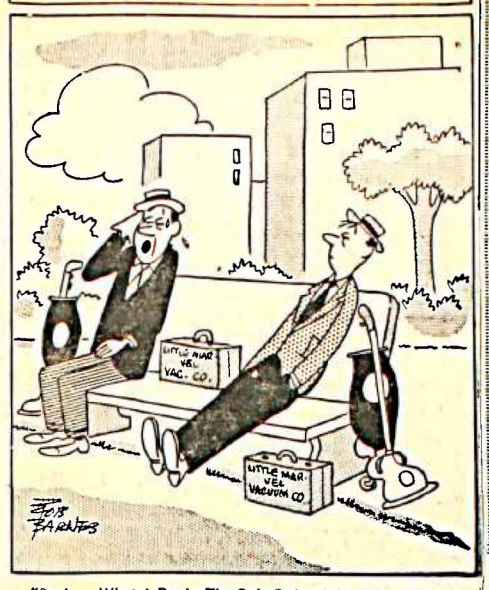
LAFF OF THE WEEK



"Boy! . . . What A Day!—The Only Orders I Got Were When I Left Home This Morning!"

JOE AND MARILYN . . . Joe Di Maggio, former New York Yankee baseball star, visits with curvaceous Marilyn Monroe at a Hollywood studio before leaving for New York and his new job as a sports commentator. Rumour connects them romantically.

By LYTLE HULL

THE NEXT PRESIDENT will find the same United States that the New Deal "took over" in 1922. Twenty years of the drive toward socialism has pretty well eclipsed the old liberty which Americans formerly enjoyed. Today the people are enmeshed in a web of "statism" which can only be altered by the united efforts of all real Americans led by some genius to whom God and country mean more than anything and everything.

Up to now we have enjoyed the wonders which American industry—not the New Deal—has made available to us. But if the welfare state is returned again to power the industries, in the natural course of events, will be taxed to a point where government will take them over to maintain their operation. Only then will we begin to feel the real pinch, just as England is feeling it, and as Russia has been feeling it for 30 years, and as all peoples have felt it who have espoused socialism.

This column has favored Robert Taft as the next President. It believes that he would make a fine record. But we are beginning to feel that to remedy present conditions it is going to require more than a fine President. It is going to require Genius—with a capital G.

There are available for the office, which for the next four years is going to be by far the most important post in the free world, two great soldiers, each of whom has demonstrated genius in his particular line of military endeavor. They are Gen. Eisenhower and Gen. MacArthur. Either one may be a gamble to a certain extent as against Taft's well known soundness. But this nation and the free world are almost compelled to gamble in order to survive.

The "setup" appears to us like this: Taft—sound and in normal times, safe; MacArthur—potential genius in affairs governmental, but handicapped possibly by age. Eisenhower — potential governmental genius, "Welfare state"—the finish of a once glorious nation.

STYLE SHOP OPENS THIS WEEK

Helens Gaulden's Style Shop, 3235 Imperial, in the new group of store rooms recently built by George Casteel, is set for a grand opening Saturday.

The new shop will handle women's wear in the popular price field together with coats, dresses, and the like.

An archway will join the Style Shop with Mode O' Day and Miss Gaulden will operate both shops. She has owned and operated the Mode O' Day business at 7808 Broadway for several years.

While the shops are on separate streets they join together at the back. This permitted Mrs. Gaulden to engineer the expansion so that a single management could operate both shops.

There will be flowers for the first 250 ladies who visit the Style Shop Saturday.
